HCI's Impact on Industry and the CHI Conference Connection

What is HCI?

The field of Human-Computer Interaction (HCI) focuses on the design, construction and usage of digital tools to enhance human intelligence and interactions across the globe.

HCI Impacts Revenue

HCI's impact on the technology industry has been enormous. Since the 1970's, leading companies have increased their success through the growing use of HCI methods to (1) avoid wasting precious investment money from failed deployments of inferior technologies and to (2) generate new revenue by identifying under-served needs and then to envision, design and test innovative products and services that fulfill the under-served needs effectively. HCI specialists employ a variety of techniques to determine whether products are learnable, usable, and valuable. Through rigorous beginning-to-end methods that combine concept design, design critique, cognitive analysis, performance experiments and more, HCI researchers assess whether technologies frustrate, thwart, and confound people, then design solutions that serve, engage and extend people's capabilities.

HCI Impacts Innovation

In addition to tremendous cost savings, the field of HCI has spawned billions of dollars of new revenue in innovative product and service categories. Early examples of the business value of HCI methods include Xerox's employment of cognitive psychologists, social scientists and engineers to develop copier interfaces, Graphical User Interfaces (GUI) and the development of the world's first commercial mouse and personal computer. HCI researchers at Xerox PARC, Olivetti and other corporations also envisioned and captured fundamental patents, designs and prototypes in the field of Ubiquitous Computing that completely anticipated the current age of network services, interactive displays, tablets and smart phones. Now, world-leading technology companies no longer rely solely on technical advances to lead the market, but they create differentiated products with innovative designs that are a delight to use.

HCI Creates Business Advantage

As a concrete example of the bottom-line value of HCI, consider a recent US court decision that did not recognize infringement of 3 technology-based patents, but awarded a significant sum in damages for the infringement of 7 patents related to design and interaction.¹ This ruling clearly illustrates that the court believes the HCI-related intellectual property created tremendous business advantage here.

The CHI Conference Connection

Since the development of the field, dozens of key HCI-generated products have been unveiled at the CHI conference prior to market deployment including multi-touch and 3D interaction, tangible interfaces, social networking, instant text messaging, personal health and elder care, fitness tracking, smart homes, internet of things, human-robot interaction and wearable devices. As the premier world-wide forum for the exchange of information on all aspects of human-computer interaction, the CHI conference is often the first public demonstration of such advanced technologies.

The 2013 CHI conference, held in Paris, France, attracted several thousand thought leaders from the top technology companies and research institutes around the world as did CHI 2014 in Toronto. We expect to see continued growth in attendance at CHI 2015 in Seoul. Top corporations ranging from processor manufacturers (Intel), operating system vendors (Microsoft), laptop and tablet computer manufacturers (Dell, Hewlett Packard), web service providers (Google, Yahoo!, eBay, Amazon), mobile computer manufacturers (Samsung, Apple), telecommunication carriers (NTT Docomo, Verizon), automobile manufacturers (Ford, Audi) as well as emerging companies and startups send employees to the CHI conference to present and hear the world's most advanced innovations.

Please join us in Seoul, Korea, as a CHI 2015 Sponsor. Together, let's cross boundaries and connect to the future.

An Invitation to Exhibit

CHI 2015 is the premier worldwide forum for professionals interested in all aspects of human-computer interaction (HCI). The conference features work on the hardware and software engineering of interactive systems, the structure of communication between human and machine, characterization of the use and contexts of use for interactive systems, methodology of design, design artifacts and experiences, and future technologies.

Conference Format

CHI 2015 is a four-day conference (Monday through Thursday). The conference incorporates CHI Courses and is organized around papers, presentations, speakers and discussions on how to create better interactive experiences. As the foremost conference in its field, CHI 2015 continues to offer a wide-ranging program, supporting and facilitating the exchange of ideas within and between all of these communities.

Who Will Be at CHI 2015?

CHI 2015 will bring together computer scientists; design practitioners; human factors and ergonomics professionals; psychologists; social scientists; software developers; software/hardware architects; engineering, product and quality managers; educators and evaluators. These are the professionals who work at the heart of making systems and products usable.

CHI 2015 will be held at COEX Convention & Exhibition Center in Seoul, South Korea. The theme, “Crossings,” highlights the many kinds of crossings that happen at the CHI conference: crossing borders, crossing cultures, crossing disciplines, crossing people and technology, crossing past and future, crossing physical and digital, crossing art and science - the possibilities are endless. CHI brings together attendees from countries around the world, representing a myriad of cultures and application areas, whose diverse perspectives influence each other. Given this, it is more than fitting that CHI 2015 will take place in Seoul, one of the world’s most dynamic cities and the center of emerging trends in culture, technology and design.

CHI 2015 is truly a central crossing point to find the latest in research and design of the world’s most innovative technologies.

If your organization supplies systems or products that involve users interacting with computer technology and the user aspects are important to the success of your product, then this conference will be of special interest to you. CHI 2015 is the place your organization needs to be to learn about leading-edge research and imminent technologies.

14. Insurance Information

ACM/CHI 2015 will endeavor to assist in the protection of exhibitors by providing 24-hour guard service. However, due to the tremendous value of exhibits, it is impractical and impossible to insure Exhibitors' equipment against loss, theft, damage, and breakage. Neither the Exhibit Building nor any of its employees nor representatives, nor any representative of ACM/CHI 2015, nor any subcontractor will be responsible for any injury, loss, or damage to the Exhibitor, the Exhibitor's employees, or property, however caused. In addition, the Exhibitor must assume responsibility for damage to the Exhibit Building property and indemnify and hold harmless the Exhibit Building from liability, which might ensue from any cause whatsoever, including accidents or injuries to Exhibitors, their guests, or employees. The Exhibitor must also assume responsibility for any accident, injury or property damage any person incurs while viewing his exhibit where such accident, injury, or property damage is caused by the negligence of the Exhibitor, agent, or employees. In view of the foregoing, Exhibitors are urged to place "extra territorial" and other coverage on equipment and exhibits, and arrange for extended public liability insurance with their regular insurance carrier, particularly if they are conducting experiments or demonstrations using heat or high voltage. ACM/CHI 2015 and the ACM/CHI 2015 Exhibits Management will cooperate fully but cannot assume responsibility for damage to Exhibitors' property or lost shipments, either coming into or going out of the premises, or for moving costs. Any damage due to inadequately packed property is Exhibitor's own responsibility. If Exhibit fails to arrive, Exhibitor will nevertheless be responsible for booth rent and no refund will be made. Exhibitors should carry insurance against such risks.

15. Hospitality Events

Hospitality space may be available in designated conference hotels and the Exhibit Building. All hospitality suite functions are required to be registered with the Exhibit Coordinator and cannot conflict with any of the conference courses, plenary sessions, technical sessions, or general receptions. Hospitality space is made available first to conference sponsors and then on a "first come, first served" basis to Exhibitors. Please contact the CHI 2015 Exhibit Coordinator for further information on reserving hospitality space.

16. Cancellation or Termination of Exhibit

If, because of war, fire, strike, Exhibit facility construction or renovation project, government regulation, public catastrophe, Act of God, public enemy, or other cause beyond the control of ACM/CHI 2015, the Exhibition or any part thereof is prevented from being held, is canceled by ACM/CHI 2015, or the Exhibit Space becomes unavailable, ACM/CHI 2015, in its sole discretion, shall determine and refund to the Exhibitor its proportionate share of the balance of the aggregate exhibit fees received which remain after deducting expenses incurred by ACM/CHI 2015 and reasonable compensation to ACM/CHI 2015. In no case shall the amount of refund to Exhibitor exceed the amount of exhibit fee paid.

17. Exhibitor Cancellation

Cancellation of any portion of this Application/Contract by the Exhibitor will be accepted only at the discretion of ACM/CHI 2015 and then only based upon the following refund policy. Prior to 24 February 2015, fifty percent (50%) of the total contract fee will be refunded. After 24 February 2015 no refunds will be given unless space is resold. If the space is resold, fifty percent (50%) of the total contract fee will be refunded. Except as the Exhibitor's rental obligation may be reduced as set forth in the preceding sentence, the Exhibitor is responsible for total booth rental irrespective of the reason for the cancellation by Exhibitor or because of the failure of an Exhibit to arrive for any reason.

18. Exhibitor Conduct

Exhibitor and its representatives shall not congregate or solicit trade in the aisles. The prior written consent of ACM/CHI 2015 is required for the employment or use of any live model, demonstrator, solicitor, or device for the mechanical reproduction of sound. Such employment or use shall be confined to Exhibit Space. ACM/CHI 2015, in its sole and absolute discretion, may withdraw its consent at any time, in which event Exhibitor shall terminate such activity immediately. All promotional plans must be submitted to ACM/CHI 2015 for approval. Distribution of pamphlets, brochures, or any advertising matter must be confined to the Exhibit Space. Exhibitor is prohibited from bringing alcoholic beverages into the Exhibit Area. Exhibitor shall refrain from any action that will distract attendees from attendance at the Exhibit during open hours. 20. Registration Lists

ACM/CHI 2015 will provide a one-time use registration list to Exhibitor, if requested by Exhibitor on the Application/Contract. A list is available 3 weeks prior to the conference or 3 weeks after it. Exhibitor must indicate which list is preferred on the Application/Contract. It is understood that the list is postal addresses only for a single use. Exhibitor agrees not to sell, lend or give lists to any parties outside of Exhibitor's organization.

21. Insurance Requirements

All exhibitors participating in the CHI 2015 Exhibition are required to obtain a general public liability insurance in the amount of one million dollars ($1,000,000) per occurrence. ACM SIGCHI and Convention Center shall be named as additional insureds on the general liability policy. Such insurance maintained by the exhibitor must be issued by an insurance company with an A.M. Best rating of A- or higher and shall include coverage of the indemnification obligations of the exhibitor under these rules and regulations. Each exhibitor is also required to carry workers compensation protecting employees in accordance with the laws of the state or province in which the exhibition is being held. Nothing in this paragraph shall limit the amount of liability an exhibitor may be responsible for.

22. Agreement to Conditions of Contract to Exhibit

Exhibitor agrees to observe and abide by the foregoing Conditions of Contract to Exhibit and by such additional Conditions of Contract made by ACM/CHI 2015 from time to time for the efficient or safe operation of the Exhibit including, but not limited to, those contained in this contract. In addition to ACM/CHI 2015's right to close an Exhibit and withdraw its acceptance of this Application/Contract, ACM/CHI 2015, in its sole judgment, may refuse to consider for participation in future Exhibits an Exhibitor who violates or fails to abide by all such Conditions of Contract to Exhibit set forth in the Application/Contract. There is no other agreement or warranty between the Exhibitor and ACM/CHI 2015 except as set forth in this document. The rights of ACM/CHI 2015 under this contract shall not be deemed waived except as specifically stated in writing and signed by an authorized representative of ACM/CHI 2015.
